
1. Introduction

In January 1999, Muskegon Community College commissioned Tower Pinkster Titus Associates, Inc., in association with Integrated Systems Development and Corbin Design, to develop a new Campus Master Plan. This plan is intended to direct the physical development of the College in ways that reflect its mission and vision for the future.

Student-Centered Learning

Following months of study, the Tower Pinkster Titus Associates Planning Team has developed various recommendations for inclusion in the new Master Plan to reflect the changing and expanding role of the College in the community, and to reflect the College's desire to provide a student-centered environment for the next century.

The Tower Pinkster Titus Associates Planning Team appreciates and acknowledges the assistance of staff, faculty, administration, students, the Master Plan Task Force, the MCC Board of Trustees and members of the Muskegon community for their contributions to this study, including their time, interest, advice and constructive thoughts provided throughout this planning study. In particular, the guidance and organization of Diana Osborn, Dean of Administrative Services, were most appreciated during the entire study process.
