

BASKET BALL

TONIGHT
MUSKEGON
JUNIOR COLLEGE

—VS—

PORT HURON
JUNIOR COLLEGE

Central Campus Auditorium

Preliminary 7:30 :-- Main Game 8:30

Preliminary
K. C.'s vs. Shaw Walker

Junior College to Oppose Port Huron; Have Second Place in State Race Sewed Up for Season; Heights and Grand Haven to Meet in District Basketball Tourney.

Three Muskegon basketball teams will make their final scheduled appearances before local fans this week, two Friday night and one team Saturday night.

Two of the teams, Muskegon High and Muskegon Junior College, are rated with the best of their divisions in the entire state. Muskegon Heights High will be fighting for a place in the limelight by an upset over Grand Haven in the district basketball tournament to open at Heights gymnasium tomorrow.

MUSKEGON J.C. QUINT MEETS PORT HURON SQUAD TONIGHT

Jaysees Finish Home Schedule; Have Made Impressive Record During Past Season; Big Reds Finish Sked in Battle Tomorrow Night at Central Campus Gym.

Muskegon Junior College basketballers tonight make their last appearance of the season before a Muskegon audience, unless a talked-of game with the Muskegon Y.M.C.A. materializes. The Jaysees meet Port Huron Junior College at the Central Campus gymnasium, with the preliminary scheduled for 7:30 and the Jaysee game at 8:30. A fast preliminary has been scheduled between the Shaw Walkers, Red Triangle Factory basketball league leaders, and the Knights of Columbus team, one of the better Interchurch league squads.

Muskegon Junior College has made an impressive record this year, losing only two games, and both of those to the undefeated Grand Rapids Junior College team, which has several victories recorded over senior colleges.

Muskegon has beaten Highland Park, Flint Junior colleges, and Hope Freshmen twice each, and has won from Ferris Institute and Port Huron once each, thus making a record for the season so far of eight victories against two defeats. The Port Huron team should be beaten tonight, giving the locals nine wins, and a game scheduled for next week at Ferris Institute may also be turned in. The record, with those two victories, would be even more impressive.

The preliminary game is an interesting one. The McCall brothers, each of whom played on Muskegon championship basketball teams, are expected to play in a regular game together for the first time, when Don and Bill play for the shopmen. Don played on the 1928 state championship Big Red team, and Bill on the team that won the title last year.

Muskegon High cagers also finish their schedule of home games when they meet Grand Rapids South at the Central Campus gymnasium tomorrow night.

Muskegon High also has lost two games during the season, but none of them have been dropped to Western Michigan teams, and the Big Reds have scored victories over most of the squads in this section of the state, not meeting Grand Rapids-Creston and Union, or Battle Creek during the season.

The lineup and summary:

MUSK. J. C. (37)	FG	FT	PF	TP
Hathaway, f	4	0	0	8
Roberson, lf	1	1	3	3
McDonald, c	8	0	2	19
Lambert, rg	5	0	0	10
Rohwedder, lg	2	0	3	4
Totals	18	1	8	37

PORT HURON (30)

PORT HURON (30)	FG	FT	PF	TP
Beale, f	2	0	0	8
Marshall, lf	1	1	1	3
Coomings, lf	0	1	0	1
Schaff, c	1	0	2	2
Plantz, rg	3	0	0	8
Hupert, lg	4	0	0	12
Totals	12	6	4	30

J. C. QUINT BEATS PORT HURON FIVE IN LAST HOME TILT

Muskegon Cagers Take Big Lead in First Half to Sew Up Battle

Muskegon Junior College last night turned in a victory in the team's last appearance before the home crowd, and gave the squad a clean sweep of all Junior College opposition except the Grand Rapids Jaysees, who were defeated in the league, and consequently without serious opposition for the championship. The Muskegon J. C. quint won from Port Huron Junior 37 to 30 in a hectic game at the Central Campus gymnasium last night, chiefly through the shooting of Captain McDonald and Lambert.

Port Huron brought a new gang of players, none of whom had appeared against the Muskies as regulars at Port Huron earlier in the season. And only a lapse during the first half caused the downfall of the visitors. Muskegon spurted as the first half neared its close, and the margin of 20 to 10 at the halftime period, proved too big a handicap for the visiting team, which outscored Muskegon in the last period.

Captain Norman McDonald's caging eye was in form, while Lambert and Hathaway ably assisted. McDonald scored 12 points with six field goals, Hathaway had four field goals for eight points, and Lambert made five field goals for 10 points.

The lead in the game alternated until the two teams had six points each. Then Muskegon started walking away, and at the half rest period had a ten point lead. The second half found Beale, Plantz and Hupert of the Port Huron team cutting down that lead gradually, but never close enough to really threaten. Just before the end of the game the Port Huron team was just five points behind, Muskegon leading 25 to 20 when Captain McDonald made the last field goal of the game.